OBS became an independent charitable incorporated organisation (CIO) on April 1st 2018.

The trustees are responsible for the general control and management of the charity. They give their time freely and receive no remuneration or other financial benefits. The trustees meet together as a body four times yearly and are ultimately responsible for decisions taken in relation to running OBS. Trustees will usually serve for terms of two or three years and may be reappointed for a second term.

A team of contracted facilitators is responsible for day-to-day running of the organisation, and delivery of breastfeeding support and other services. Volunteers work alongside facilitators to aid the smooth delivery of services and are engaged in all aspects of OBS.
